

Ashley Smith
Client Account Executive
Accenture
Houston, TX

Ashley Smith is an executive at Accenture specializing in commodity trading and risk management. In 2007, Ashley joined Accenture after graduating from McCombs with a BBA in Finance. Ashley has focused her career on guiding Fortune 500 companies through major business and technology transformations and leads a global practice within Accenture focused on implementing best-practice software solutions for Accenture's trading clients. She is an active member of Accenture's recruiting on campus and previously served as a member of the recruiting leadership team, allowing her to continually engage with McCombs students - our next generation of business leaders.

After moving back to Austin in 2016, Ashley felt compelled to get further involved at UT, giving back to the university that opened the door to such great opportunities for her. She is excited to join such a strong group of leaders on the BBA Advisory Board.
